FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
October 9, 2025

POLARIS Laboratories® Announces 2025 Fluid Analysis Program Champion Awards Four companies recognized for their outstanding fluid analysis programs

INDIANAPOLIS – Each year, POLARIS Laboratories® recognizes customers who demonstrate excellence in their fluid analysis programs. These awards highlight program leadership, measurable improvements, impactful maintenance actions, and the dedication required to drive long-term success.

The 2025 finalists were honored at the Reliability Summit—POLARIS Laboratories’ annual fluid analysis and reliability-focused conference—on October 7, 2025, in Indianapolis.

“A program champion is essential to the success of any fluid analysis program, serving as the link between mechanics, management, and the laboratory while leading adoption and implementation. It’s inspiring to see the commitment these champions and their maintenance teams bring to their programs. Congratulations to this year’s finalists!” – Randy Clark, Manager of Reliability, POLARIS Laboratories®.

POLARIS Laboratories® awards The Shelly Company as the Tier II Winner and Diversified Energy as the Tier I Winner of the 2025 Fluid Analysis Program Champion Award. Newmont – Red Chris Mine and Profrac are named Tier II and Tier I Award finalists, respectively. To hear words from the program champions themselves, click below.
